How To Get Rid Of Them Darned Flies

After a hard day's work in the garden, many a greenhumbler has been known to trot off with the family to the local cinema for an evening of relaxation and a bit of diversion from the strains of gardening and the "eternal battle of the bug". Settling down in a plush theater seat, the gardener folds his calloused hands, mops his weary brow, and awaits the flash of color on the screen that will take his thoughts far away from "aphis on the rose bushes" and "them darned flies in the patio".

The houselights dim . . . the curtains part . . . and with a roar of music, a huge, double-wide image hits the screen. Faces as big as the Eiffel Tower appear . . . in the background loom palatial stretches of lush, green grass and patches of vivid-blended flowers (Ah . . . one of these REAL REALISM movies, the gardener thinks to himself). And then the title spreads across the length of the screen: "PEASANT'S PICNIC" (Should be good . . . maybe I'll get a few tips on how to combat them darned flies we have at our picnics).

The camera pans in on a few hundred people munching on sandwiches . . . then it turns its all-consuming lens toward a mass of barbecue pits with assorted chickens, pheasants, ducks, rabbit and wienies roasting lazily thereupon . . . In the background are heard violins saturating the theatre with "Waltz of the Flowers".

The gardener blinks and sits forward in his seat. (Now . . . this is the part where the flies eat all the food before the peasants can lift a finger). But the food remains fly-less, and the huge peasant fingers grab choice morsels of food unbrothered by any insect at all.

The gardener slouches back in his seat. (Oh well . . . maybe they'll show how them darned flies pester you and you have to sweat at them with a fly-sweater and chase them clear out to the city dump if you want to get rid of them). THEN . . . the camera moves in fast, in full-dimensional-full-color-Vision, on a fly. A FLY! No godfrey, I know they'd HAVE to get one of them varmints in here somewhere . . . now that's REALISM!

At the end of the saga of "PEASANT'S PICNIC", the gardener leaves the theater dragging his Ma and Junior and Sis behind. Outside, Mother twerps: "My, my, my. Wasn't that REAL!" Then Junior screeches: "Daddy . . . why can't WE ever have picnics like that?" And then Sis chortles: "Pa . . . wasn't that FLY the CUTEST little O' thing?" At this point the gardener clenches his teeth and murmurs with heated tones: "You want REALISM, huh? Well, then let's go home to that darned fly-infested patio of ours and roast some nice, fat wienies for them darned flies to eat while a thousand violins play 'Slaughter on Tenth Avenue'. I'll give you all the biggest chunk of REALISM you ever had!"

Now, modern gardeners and picnic-givers know that all this fuss and bother is no longer necessary when dealing with that filthiest and pestiest of insects . . . the fly. No fly-papers . . . no fly-swatters . . . no color . . . full language . . . none of these is used today to combat the housefly and all because modern science came along and devised a method of "baiting" that fly right into oblivion! It's a dry powder called simply ORTHO Fly Killer Dry Bait.

Sprinkle this bait around garbage containers, porches, driveways, and trash barrels, too . . . and "lure the flies to death". It works fast . . . it's ready-mixed, ready to go, and sure-fire death to houseflies.

That gardener should have stayed home from the cinema and invested in a little ORTHO Fly Killer . . . the dry bait that works like lightning. That's about the best kind of REALISM . . . dead houseflies. I mean.

Thrift's Birthday

This is an anniversary year of which thrift is the birthday cake and security is the candles. For as big as the celebration is millions of Americans in every conceivable occupation, in every economic and social level. They are the investors in series E and H Savings Bonds.

Fifteen years ago, in 1941, the United States Treasury Department tentatively began a program to raise money for national defense and as a brake against inflation by borrowing from as many persons as possible. This was the birth of the series E and H Bonds. It was the birth also of what was to become the largest thrift program of all time.

Treasury officials are human, rumor to the contrary notwithstanding, and none among them could have foreseen, or even dreamed of, 15 years ago, the incredible growth of the Savings Bonds idea until today it has become an integral part of the American way of life.

According to Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey more than 40 million Americans today own more than $40 billion in series E and H Bonds, the latter being added to the thrift program in 1952. And of these bond owners more than 8 million are saving more than $100 million a month through the payroll savings plan by means of the patriotic cooperation of the huge corporations or the small businesses where they work, and of organized labor as a friendly and persuasive associate.

It was to be expected in the service of the World War II years that a great many Americans would buy Savings Bonds, and a great many did. But when the war was over, and the fervor gone, they kept on buying them — that is the astonishing thing, and that is the astounding commonplace these millions of Americans are celebrating this year.

Temporary Change In Episcopal Services

Services at the Episcopal Church of St. John the Apostle have been set back 30 minutes this Sunday to 9:30 a. m., according to the Rev. Walter G. Martin.

Ordinarily, the Sunday service is scheduled for 9 a. m. but because of the vacation of the Rev. J. C. Petrie, vicar of St. Martin's Church in Clewiston, Father Martin is scheduled to take the service there at 11 a. m. This necessitated changing the schedule of the Church of the Holy Nativity at Pahokee from 11 to 9 a. m. and subsequently the change at Belle Glade resulted.

The Pahokee and Belle Glade churches will be back on their regular schedule next Sunday, Father Martin said. But Aug. 19, the revised schedule will again be in effect.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

The fact that all things are possible to God will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Spirit" at Christian Science services Sunday. Scripture selections to be read from the King James Version of the Bible will include Paul's statement to the Philippians (4:13): "I can do all things through Christ which strengthens me."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (12:30-4): "To admit that sickness is a condition over which God has no control, is to presuppose that omnipotent power is powerless on some occasions. The law of Christ, or Truth, makes all things possible to Spirit; but the so-called laws of matter would render Spirit of no avail, and demand obedience to materialistic codes, thus departing from the basis of one God, one law-maker."

WCSB Luncheon Meet To Be Held Aug. 8th

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read Philippians 13-11. And in the night his soul shall be with me, and my prayer unto the God of my life. (Psalm 42:8.)

A small boy was moving his toys from one side of his room to another. Trying to gather them all at once, he succeeded only in dropping them. After several attempts, he cried out in disgust. His mother quietly suggested that he move 'one toy at a time. Soon a smiling youngster had his playthings where he wanted them.

Sometimes life seems to thrust so heavy a load upon us that we feel we cannot struggle any longer — not another minute, not a hour, day. At such times we are ready to give up in despair at what seems to be facing us. At such times we forget that God does not give our days to us all at one time. He gives them to us moment by moment. He does not expect us to bear tomorrow's burdens today. He promises strength, grace, courage, wisdom as needed at the moment.

PRAYER
Our Father, we are even in Thy loving care. Thou knowest what we have need of before we ask. Help us never to be fearful or anxious, but to take our requests to Thee, for we would be Thy trusting children. In our Saviour's Name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
I will thank God who will supply all my needs this day.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY" By RUSSELL KAY

For the benefit of a lot of folks who are contemplating a trip to Nassau and are led to believe from the enticing advertising of travel bureaus and shipping companies that the trip costs $50 for three nights and two days, including meals, I'd like to point out that there are a number of other things to figure in your costs before you arrive at the real amount.

Twisting round the misleading. They read "From $50" and what "Plus Tax." The word "from" means an inside statement that you are willing to share with someone else. The better accommodations, the more the cost.

The "Including Tax" means $4.55 on your ticket, plus $1.00 wharfage fee in Miami, plus $3.00 landing tax in Nassau. So what? That's only $8.40 more, provided you are still settling for the cheapest stateroom.

If you are from out of town and drove your car, as I did, you must store it while on your trip. You have to pay for the minimum dock with all your baggage so naturally you want it there when you want it.

For the three nights is $7.00, and while you don't have to, you are supposed to tip the boy who takes your things to the storage locker. A porter is waiting for you at the dock. He takes your bags to the storage locker and has painted in 15c per bag or package. If you want to include a tip, and most people do, add that to your total. The porter is a hard working guy. He puts your bags on an elevator and takes them to the storage locker.

After you have stood in line an hour or so making your peace with immigration inspectors, customs inspectors and the purser, you claim your bags and another helpful guy carries them to your stateroom. You dig in your pocket for another tip. Now let's add up and see where we stand. Our tickets plus tax amounted to $56.40. Add $7.00 storage for the car and you have $63.40. If you tip a half dollar, which is about the average, that's another $1.50 or a total of $64.90.

Your stateroom and meals are all paid for, but the waiter who serves you acts at least a couple of dollars for the trip and your room steward will feel hurt with less than one dollar a night, so add on another $1.00. Now you have a total of $65.90. Maybe you would like a deck chair, O.K., you can have one for the trip on payment of $2.00 and your total reaches $71.90.

Now you can settle down and enjoy your trip until it comes time to leave the boat. In order to do this, you stand in line again for a landing pass and get acquainted with another inspector who is stationed at the end of another line to stamp your pass after he has satisfied himself as to where you were born and why.

You may not have seen your room steward on the whole trip, but he is standing in your stateroom doorway to greet you and take your bags to the waiting room.

room. You have paid him for the voyage, but you still have to reckon with the boy who carries your bags from the waiting room to the taxi or carport between the boat and the boy who brings your car from the storage garage. Let's say you get by this service for a total of another $1.50. That makes your total $73.40.

I could tell you a lot more how easy it is to spend money in Nassau on taxis, surveys with a fringe on top, boat rides, calypso entertainers, divers and so on, but that's another story. However, if you are planning a trip better figure your minimum at no less than $100, plus whatever you plan to spend on merchandise while on the island.

Understand, I'm not griping. I had fun and enjoyed my trip, but I just didn't want you to think that you can go to Nassau for $50, when that amount won't even get you to the boat.

A new innovation is now sweeping the country through the combined efforts of the Carvel Ice Cream Company in Yonkers, New York. They have recently put on the market a 6 3/4" high and 2" wide, fully equipped Carvel ice cream store, just like the ones dotting the landscapes throughout the country. It is entirely made of durable cardboard and offers a full supply of the following: Lollipopopolis ice cream, sticks, Lollipopopolis ice cream, Carvel paper hats, real ice cream cake cones, reusable plastic sundae dishes, reusable plastic Bananas Barge dishes, plastic spoons, paper ice cream cones, reflective automobile bumper strip and Carvel balloons. Most of the items can be used around the house such as the reusable plastic sundae dishes, etc.

The child enters the store through the rear since it is enclosed on three sides and has the feeling of being in his own business. There are shelves inside and a cone dispenser for him to use.

The cone store is in three colors with Carvel ice cream machines painted on the outside. It follows the modern line of the Carvel store and has on it a crown and cone for all to see. They will be available at all Carvel stores and has on it available through department stores, also.

Some folks who claim to live by the Book seem to chuck its teaching out of their car windows when they get on the highways.

It's Finally Happened Remember the good old days during the blistering summer heat when one could walk but a few blocks and find on a street corner, stoop or country road, an enterprising young boy or girl, between the ages of 4 and 14, with a crudely-painted orange crate on which there was painted a badly misspelled sign stating, "Lemonade — 2c a Small Glass, 3c a Large Glass." More often than not, you would get 99 per cent water, 1 per cent sugar and a half drop of lemon, with very little or no ice at all. However, you didn't seem to mind too much since it was a refreshing pause, and always a pleasure to see these youngsters earning a few extra pennies.

The cone store is in three colors with Carvel ice cream machines painted on the outside. It follows the modern line of the Carvel store and has on it a crown and cone for all to see. They will be available at all Carvel stores and has on it available through department stores, also.

Some folks who claim to live by the Book seem to chuck its teaching out of their car windows when they get on the highways.

It's Finally Happened Remember the good old days during the blistering summer heat when one could walk but a few blocks and find on a street corner, stoop or country road, an enterprising young boy or girl, between the ages of 4 and 14, with a crudely-painted orange crate on which there was painted a badly misspelled sign stating, "Lemonade — 2c a Small Glass, 3c a Large Glass." More often than not, you would get 99 per cent water, 1 per cent sugar and a half drop of lemon, with very little or no ice at all. However, you didn't seem to mind too much since it was a refreshing pause, and always a pleasure to see these youngsters earning a few extra pennies.

A new innovation is now sweeping the country through the combined efforts of the Carvel Ice Cream Company in Yonkers, New York. They have recently put on the market a 6 3/4" high and 2" wide, fully equipped Carvel ice cream store, just like the ones dotting the landscapes throughout the country. It is entirely made of durable cardboard and offers a full supply of the following: Lollipopopolis ice cream, sticks, Lollipopopolis ice cream, Carvel paper hats, real ice cream cake cones, reusable plastic sundae dishes, reusable plastic Bananas Barge dishes, plastic spoons, paper ice cream cones, reflective automobile bumper strip and Carvel balloons. Most of the items can be used around the house such as the reusable plastic sundae dishes, etc.

The child enters the store through the rear since it is enclosed on three sides and has the feeling of being in his own business. There are shelves inside and a cone dispenser for him to use.

Copies Of Form 2265 Of Highway Act, Available

Business firms subject to the new federal tax on products included in the recently passed Highway Act may now obtain copies of Form 2265 from the District Office of Internal Revenue at 230 Guaranty Building, West Palm Beach, District Director Tomlinson said today. Returns, with payments are due by October 15.

Increased taxes are levied on floor stocks of the following items on hand as of last July 1: gasoline; tires of the type used on highway vehicles; truck, bus and trailer chassis; bodies, and tractors. A new tax was imposed on tread rubber of three cents a pound.

An instruction sheet accompanies the new form, Mr. Tomlinson said. It explains and defines inclusions and exemptions in the products listed as taxable on the form itself. Continuing taxes called for under the Highway Act will be paid as part of regular quarterly excise tax returns. A 16-year road-building program to cost about $3 billion dollars will be financed by the taxes set forth in the new act.

Two million copies of the form were printed to meet the needs of affected businesses. Of these about a third are being distributed directly by trade associations and manufacturers, with the remaining two thirds to be available through district revenue offices.

Returns and payments should be sent to the district office, and checks or money orders should be made payable to the Internal Revenue Service, Mr. Tomlinson reminded business firms.

HIGHWAY PHILOSOPHY

By Trooper Bill
April Fool's Day is an excellent time for some folks, who think they are progressive, to evaluate their accomplishments.

There are two kinds of people. Those who grab opportunity when it comes along and those who spend a lifetime chasing it.

Another tip from Trooper Bill: Don't let what you think is horsemanship make a jackass out of you!

A smile is the one thing you can't see, but it's worthless unless given away freely.

Practice breathing through your nose. It keeps your mouth shut!

Slow minds in fast traffic are the one unchained cause of many a mishap.

Speed on highway. Pass on hills. Fate will soon cure your ills.

The Bossman Says: Here's the week's parting shot from Comdr. H. N. Kirkman of the Florida Highway Patrol: "It's foolish to neglect the opportunity to do the right thing in traffic — so often you don't get a second chance!"

You can be years ahead right now!

(It's a great time to buy a Buick!)

What does all this add up to for you? Just this: You couldn't pick a better time than right now to make a great buy on all this new Buick bounty. It's only midsummer — with your present car at its peak trade-in value. And our prices today are sweet enough to help keep Buick outselling all other cars in America except two of the well-known smaller cars.

So drop in on us today — or this week, at the latest — and we'll start things rolling for you in a great big way.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick build today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century — optional at modest extra cost on Special.

Best Buick Yet

WANT TO KNOW how to beat the calendar? Then come drive a 1956 Buick — and get something you'll get nowhere else.

It's a new kind of blazing performance that breaks with the past and brings you today what other cars may offer in the future.

Only Buick, of all the world's automobiles, has Variable Pitch Dynaflow* — the one transmission which takes its cue from the variable pitch propellers of modern aircraft.

So here you get an exhilarating response from the first inch of pedal travel — with absolutely no pauses or lags — and with the better gas mileage this low throttle range can provide.

Only here can you switch the pitch by flooring the pedal for a soaring burst of full power when safety demands it.

And only here can you have such years-ahead performance with the smart new beauty of Buick's sweep-ahead styling — with the new sweetness of Buick's great new ride — with the superb new surety of Buick's precise new handling.
